1.6 Describe the mechanism implemented to ensure that the quality of ODL programmes matches with the quality of relevant programmes in conventional mode:

The quality of the programmes offered by KKHSOU earned by adoption of various measures so that it matches with the quality of the programmes offered by the conventional Universities. In an open University like KKHSOU quality of SLM and support services are very important earned through design of courses, adoption of SLM preparation housekeeping, selection of course writers, Content editors and language editors. Moreover, the SLMs are supplemented and complemented by eSLM, Videos and counselling sessions. All these measures contributes towards ensuring the quality of programmes offered by KKHSOU. Preparation of Programmes Project Report and detailed discussion in the Academic Council Meeting also help in maintaining the quality of the programmes on offer. In order to earn the social and industrial acceptability, the content and pedagogical elements of the courses of different programmes have to be continually updated. In KKHSOU with the implementation of recommendations of Madhava Menon Committee, the course coverage of different programmes has been quite extensive and comprehensive. To minimize the constraint of serving the distant learners through F2F mode, the University has augmented the Learner Support Services in terms of offering Learner Portal, Mobile App, Phone-in Radio Counselling, e-SLM, Counselling at Study Centres etc. All these mechanisms are expected to ensure that the quality of ODL Programmes matches with the quality of relevant programmes in conventional mode. Moreover, the degrees have already earned the recognition of equal status from the concerned authority of Government.

Part - 6: Compliance status of 'Quality Assurance Guidelines of Learning Material in Multiple Media, Curriculum and Pedagogy' – As per Annexure - VII of UGC(ODL) Regulations, 2017:

HEI shall mention compliance details against the requirements in terms of Learning material (Print Media), Audio-Video Material: Quality Standards, Online Material: Quality Standards, Computer-based material: Quality Standards and Curriculum and Pedagogy: Quality Standards, as mentioned in the Annexure-VII of the Regulations.

CIQA of KKHSOU conducted SLM Audit in phases to see aspects of quality adherence in SLM. An SLM Audit Committee was formed and internal SLM Auditors were engaged to see whether quality assurance guidelines of learning material, curriculum and pedagogy are complied. The SLM Audit Committee prepared the modalities of selecting programme-wise units at random. An Audit Checklist was developed based on the parameters as spelt out in the UGC Guidelines so as to ensure uniformity, clarity and transparency in the audit process. The mean scores were developed for comparison in the same process to be repeated in the next Academic Year. The Audit Checklist was developed keeping the following aspects: i) Approval of two way communication between learner; the Unit follows the dialogue method which creates interactivity ii) Existence of problem solving activities, case study examples and appropriate sequence iii) Existence of learning map, summaries and key points iv) Scope for encouraging learners to apply new knowledge and skill v) Clear specification of learning objectives and outcomes vi) Division of the Unit to small section and sub-section vii) Existence of assignments for self assessment viii) Existence of glossary section, reference, suggested readings The SLM Audit process in various phases, as per the list of quality standards for print material, indicated that the University has developed the SLM with the approval of making it self explanatory, self contained, self directed, self motivating and self evaluating. While developing the e-SLM, audio-visual material, the print SLMs are considered as the base material. With the facilities available in the Multimedia Studio of the University, the University faculty members have developed video classes which are uploaded on YouTube and University website. Regarding curriculum and pedagogy, the University is guided by the PPR and specified credit structure. ## Part - 7: Compliance status of 'Guidelines on preparation of Self-learning Material' – As per Annexure - VIII of UGC (ODL) Regulations, 2017:

HEI shall mention the process followed to ensure that SLMs are prepared as per the guidelines mentioned in the Regulations. The explicit details of approval by its Statutory Authorities shall also be mentioned.

The most dynamic aspect of the SLMs in Print form KKHSOU is that these are prepared and produced in both English and Assamese medium. The SLMs for both theory and practical components are supplied to the learners. The syllabi of different programmes have been prepared and upgraded as per the recommendations by the statutory bodies such as University Grants Commission/Madhava Menon Committee and so on. Process of developing Self Learning Materials: At KKHSOU, the different Schools of Studies initiate, conceptualise, design and develop the academic programmes of the University. The programmes are developed and prepared, following the established norms and procedures, by the in-house faculty members in collaboration with the eminent subject experts. The detailed proposed programme (i.e., the duration of the programme, the learning outcome, the programme structure, target group of learners, eligibility criteria, medium of instruction, credit weightage etc.) in accordance with the course structure recommended by the School of Studies is placed before the Academic Council (AC) for approval of the same. Subsequently, the schedule for programme development is fixed and the in-house faculties are assigned the responsibility to coordinate and manage the various courses of the programme within stipulated time. The course coordinator prepares a list of potential content writers, editors and translators for developing the courses. This list is placed before the respective School of Studies. Thereafter, the recommendation of the School of Studies are placed before the AC for approval. The AC allocates the Programme Code, Course Code for each programme. Instructional Design of SLM at KKHSSOU: Each programme offered by the University contains a number of courses as decided by the School of Studies. SLMs are prepared for each course following an Institutional House Style. Each course is divided into Blocks and majority of the courses have two or three blocks. Each block contains minimum 6-8 units or 4-6 units. A unit consists of minimum 3500-5000 words or 12-15 pages. Each unit is structured based on the principles of the Instructional Design which is based on the House-Style developed by the university. Each unit contains: Introduction, Learning Objectives, Presentation of the Sections, Check Your Progress, Activity, Let Us Sum Up, Further Reading, Answers to Check Your Progress and Model/Possible Questions. The SLMs of the university undergo three types of editing: Language editing, Content editing and Format editing. The Content and Language editing are done by the external subject experts and Format editing is done by the in-house faculty members. Credit System: While preparing the SLMs, KKHSSOU follows the UGC Regulations passed from time to time. Currently, KKHSSOU is following all the rules and regulations related to SLM development as suggested by the UGC (ODL) Regulations, 2017. In terms of study hours, one credit is equivalent to 30 hours of study. All the programmes are assigned credit weightages as follows: Master Degree Programme: 64-72 credits Degree Programme: 96-100 credits Diploma Programme: 36-40 credits Certificate Programme: 16-18 credits At the end of last block of a course, a feedback form is attached to obtain the feedback from the learners on the SLM. Capacity building of Content writers, Content editors and Translators KKHSSOU organises workshops, training programmes for content writers, content editors and translators for their capacity building from time to time. The training and workshops are conducted to familiarise them on the development and preparation of SLMs. Experts from IGNOU, CEMCA as well as in house experts are invited as resource person to such programme. Institutional Arrangement/Structure for development of SLM: SLM Production and Distribution Cell: This cell comprises the Finance Officer (as Chairperson), the Deputy Registrar (Academic) as member and Assistant Registrar (SLM) as Convener. This cell has been entrusted with the responsibility of production and distribution of SLMs. KKHSSOU has empanelled printing presses which print SLMs in black and white. The different Disciplines prepare the Camera-Ready Copies (CRCs) and get its SLMs printed. Soon after the enrolment process of learners is completed, the SLMs are distributed to each learner for the courses in which he/she has enrolled. Role of Dean (Academic): The Dean (Academic) deals with the planning of new Programmes. He/she gives relevant information and assists the different Schools of KKHSSOU in developing their proposals. Role of School of Studies and Disciplines: The School of Studies and Disciplines of different subjects are the basic academic units responsible for the conceptualisation, design and development of academic programmes. The Courses of the Programmes are designed by the concerned Disciplines as per the House-Style of the University. The schedule for the development of the Courses is done according to the Academic Calendar of the University. Role of Course Coordinator: The Course Coordinator manages the whole developmental process of the course. The coordinator constitutes the SLM preparation team in consultation with other faculty members of the Discipline. The SLM preparation team includes subject experts, content writers, content editors, language editors, format editor and translator (in case of bi-lingual SLM). The course coordinator ensures that the units are prepared on time and each member of the SLM preparation team adheres to the dates decided. ## Part - 8: Compliance status of 'Guidelines on Programme Project Report' – As per Annexure - IX of UGC(ODL) Regulations, 2017:

HEI shall mention the process followed to ensure that PPRs are prepared as per the guidelines mentioned in the Regulations. The explicit details of approval by its Statutory Authorities shall also be mentioned.

The University submitted the PPR to UGC after approval by the Academic Council. While preparing the PPR, the University spelt out the programmes' missions and objectives, relevance of the programme with the University's missions and goals, the nature of target group of learners, instructional design, procedure for admission, curriculum transactions, evaluation etc. The University has conducted the admission, SLM preparation, evaluation process as per the provisions of the PPR. The University has developed mechanism for obtaining learners' feedback on the SLM and the course. CIQA and the office of the Dean (Academic) of the University are continually observing that SLM units are prepared as per the framework provided in the PPR for the respective programmes. The course structure (as it was proposed to UGC in the PPR and based on the subsequent approval of UGC) has been announced in the University Prospectus and Information Brochure. Accordingly, the office of the Controller of Examinations is conducting the evaluation process of the approved programmes course wise and as per evaluation criteria of formative and summative assessment. KKHSSOU is committed to designing and developing curriculum in consonance with its vision to provide higher education and training in various skills using the latest educational inputs and technology. In planning the curriculum, while global pace and UGC's norms are kept in focus, KKHSSOU gives prime importance in the regional needs of the people within its jurisdiction. Through education, research, training and extension, KKHSSOU strives to play a positive role in the development of the region in general, and the development of the deprived and under-privileged sections of the society in particular. All the programmes offered by KKHSSOU have some common characteristics which are reflected in all courses right from the Certificate to Master's degree where it is clearly stated that besides providing knowledge to learners on different national and global aspects, the University has also taken particular account of the regional aspects. We can highlight some of them as the following: In all programmes an attempt is made to provide the scenario of Assam in all aspects such as economic, social, cultural, historical, educational, philosophical, and ethical. The basic motto behind the inclusion of such aspects is to make the learners aware of their own region. All the programmes are designed with a view to incorporating the latest knowledge from every field. Hence, the syllabi are revised and updated time-to-time to acquaint the learners with the current topics and areas of learning. Besides, wherever there is a scope, the University has offered its learners the scope to engage themselves with the community while undertaking activities like field work, project work etc. Programmes have been designed to meet the educational and skill development needs of the learners. While developing the programmes the University has taken into account that besides acquiring knowledge, all programmes provide scope for livelihood for every learner. All the academic programmes are duly approved by the apex and statutory bodies. The UG and PG programmes have been launched according to the approval of DEB/UGC and the Certificate/Diploma programmes are approved by the Academic Council and BoM, KKHSSOU. ## Part - 9: Compliance status of 'Guidelines on Learner Support Centre' – As per Annexure - X of UGC(ODL) Regulations, 2017:

HEI shall mention the process followed for identification of LSCs and the agreement terms for providing support to the learners thereby ensuring compliance to the LSCs provisions of the Regulations. The explicit details of approval by its Statutory Authorities/CIQA shall also be mentioned.

Learner Support Centres (LSC) The LSCs are established in the affiliated colleges of Assam through an MOU. All LSCs consist of rooms for Centre-in-Charge, Coordinator/office staff, storage, counselling, laboratorial/practical works (when required), library etc. KKHSOU has been undertaking the following measures/efforts in order to reach the unreached in the remote areas of the state of Assam. i) Established Study Centres in the Districts inhabited by tribal/ SC and OBC population. ii) Eighty percent of the study centres are located in the rural areas. iii) KKHSOU encourages strategic face-to-face communication programmes, using latest technology and media. iv) Besides the use of the University's Community Radio, Television programmes in Doordarshan, YouTube sessions etc., v) Free Education is provided to the Persons with Disability (PWD), jail inmates, transgender and fee concession to women and Defense personnel. vi) Special enrolment drive and promotion are done to attract the senior citizens and women home makers. vii) Special Counselling classes are conducted in the jail premises. viii) Awareness Camps and Induction Programmes are organized on regular basis in the remote areas of the state. ix) Induction programme is organized by the university for the learners. x) Advertisement about the courses, Study centre counselling, e-SLM, Learner's portal, ePragya are the most important strategies 'to reach the unreached.' xi) KKHSOU had launched the first Community Radio of the North East India—"Jnan Taranga" to reach a section of unreached learners xii) The Learners Portal provides updated data and information to the learners. It consists of e-SLM, Assignment, Previous Question Papers, e-Mark sheets, latest news, e-admit, forms, live radio, and FAQ-answers. As most of the KKHSOU learners are from rural background with limited access to electronic and print media, it has adopted a policy to provide counselling support to the learners on a regular basis through the Study Centres of the University located across Assam. Counselling support is also provided to the jail inmates who have enrolled in various academic programmes of the University. Apart from academic counselling through face-to-face mode, it has adopted various digital modes with the help of technology. Counselling through technology includes: online counselling through various social media platforms like Telegram, WhatsApp, Facebook page of the University, KKHSOU YouTube Channel, Jnan Taranga (Community Radio Station), Counselling through email, Ekalavya (AIR). KKHSOU has proper guidelines on the functioning of the Study Centres regarding how to conduct counselling session, the qualifications of the counsellors etc. as available in the Handbook for the Study Centres. (http://kkhsou.in/web\_new/pdf/inductionProgram/2019/Handbook%20for%20the%20Study%20Centres%20PDF.pdf) Face to face counselling support is provided to the learners in the Study Centres. However, these sessions are not compulsory for the learners. But it is desirable that learners attend these sessions which help them to clarify their doubts. The learners get the Routine of the Counselling Sessions at the beginning of the academic session and the Study centres forward the routine to the University regularly. It is recommended that the study centres should arrange counselling sessions for the new learners just after the last date of admission. Role of the Coordinator of the study centre in conducting the counselling session is very significant. The coordinator is mainly responsible for effective and smooth conduct of the counselling sessions at the respective study centres. He/she coordinates the activities of all the counsellors and maintains all records in this regard. The Coordinator has to keep the study centre open on the days fixed by the University and assign specific days for counselling. The Coordinator informs the learners regarding the routine of counselling sessions. As per the policy of the University, the Coordinators always keep the attendance of the learners. If the coordinator finds that one particular learner is absent in the counselling sessions for long, he/she tries to take special measures to track that learner and find out the reasons for absence of that learner in the counselling sessions for a long period. In the ODL system, direct communication between the learners and teachers is almost absent. This gap is bridged by the Self Learning Materials (SLM) which is called the "Teacher in Print." The SLMs are prepared in such a way that the learners can easily understand their subjects. However, for further clarification, there is need of counselling session for the learners. In these sessions, the counsellor and the learners equally participate and interact. The counselling sessions are held at different levels. KKHSOU conducts pre-admission counselling through different modes and means. Again, Induction Programmes are also held at the study centres for the newly admitted learners. KKHSOU has always emphasized and encouraged the use of ICT in learning process. Some of the important ICT based initiatives of the University for its learners include- Community Radio Service Ekalavya Akashvani phone-in Programme e-Vidya LMS and Digital Library Apart from these, the faculty members of the University also provide counselling support to the learners through Facebook live, audio-video contents in YouTube channel (<https://www.youtube.com/user/kkhsou>) of the University or in Facebook page of the University (<https://www.facebook.com/groups/272636986264210/>). Study Centre Information Management- Study centre information like about study centre name, address (web URL, physical address etc.), courses offered, faculty, gps location etc. are managed by the CMS. Web Link: <http://kkhsou.in/web/admin-panel-426/> The University has three-tier Learner Support Services i.e., at the Headquarters, at the Jorhat Regional Centre (JRC) and the Learner Support Centres (LSCs) at the third level opened mainly in Higher Education Institutions. Learner Support Services provided by the LSCs: At the third level, in the LSCs, teaching learning is transacted through academic counselling sessions for both theory and practical courses with the support of the academic counsellors from amongst the faculty of the host institution (HEI). Practical sessions are arranged at select LSCs with specialized laboratories as per the programme requirements to provide hands on learning experience to the learners in need. In addition, the LSCs are entrusted to perform the following: i) provide support services such as informing, advising and counseling for the learners promotion and publicity of IGNOU programmes ii) conducting pre- admission counseling organizing and conducting induction meetings iii) distribution of self learning materials among the learners iv) conducting academic counselling for theory and practical courses v) evaluation of assignments vi) conducting term end examination and vii) providing library support to the learners Conduct of academic counselling sessions (for theory and practical courses) at Learner Support Centres: All counselling sessions are normally held on Sundays or on other days of the week as mutually agreed upon by the Learner Support Centres and the learners. The face-to-face academic counselling sessions are organized at the Learner Support Centres (LSCs): 1) to facilitate learning; 2) to motivate learners' engagement with the SLM for acquisition of the required knowledge and skills; 3) to clarify doubts and overcome the difficulties encountered during their course of study; 4) to facilitate continuous evaluation for assessment and feedback on progress made, and 5) to develop the required competencies and imparting skills through practical and hands on training. Appointment of Academic Counsellors: The academic counsellors are mostly drawn from the college/institute from where the LSC is operating. The role of an academic counsellor is multifarious and requires both tutoring and counselling. Tutoring primarily deals with academic components in enabling learning whereas the term counselling deals with communication both at the academic as well as non-academic levels. The major activities of academic counselling constitute basically three activities such as informing, advising and counselling. In a nutshell, academic counselling is organised for helping, guiding, motivating, supporting, enabling learning and creating dialogue with learners. The faculty members of the University also directly provide online and face to face counselling to all learners through email and telephonic mode. The learners of different LSCs can physically visit the University's City Campus and interact with the faculty members for solving their academic and non-academic problems. Moreover, the faculty members of the University also constantly provide counselling to the learners through the different social media platforms like Facebook and WhatsApp. Besides these, the faculty members of the University take regular counselling sessions for the learners who are enrolled in the City Study Centre in the City campus of the University. Mode/Media of Counselling and Tutorials: The University provides counselling to the learners through different modes or media which are stated below: *Face to face counselling: In this type of counselling, learners are expected to read the self-learning materials and note down the doubts and come prepared for the counselling sessions physically for discussion with the Academic Counsellors at their respective LSCs. The role of the Academic Counsellor is to clear the doubts of the learners during counselling session. *Counselling on Home Assignments: Providing counselling by the Academic Counsellors to the learners at the LSCs on how to write home assignment which is essential part of the course of the study. *Counselling through Email/Telephones/Mobile phones: The University faculty members and Academic Counsellors of LSCs provide continuous support and assistance to the learners by providing answers to the academic and non-academic queries posted or asked by the learners through email or telephones and mobile phones. *Counselling through Broadcasting (Radio/Television): The University faculty members and officials give the answers to the learners' queries through the University sponsored live programmes in radio and television. *Counselling through social media like Facebook/WhatsApp: Different queries of the learners are regularly attended by the faculty members and the University officials through Facebook and Whatsapp. *Counselling through online platforms like Google Meet, WebEx, Zoom, etc. *Practical sessions, Field visits, case studies, etc are conducted at almost all the LSCs on regular basis. Organizational Structure of the LSCs: There is one Centre In-charge and one Coordinator in each LSC. They are responsible for organising the Academic Counselling sessions for the learners admitted in their respective LSCs. Basically, the Coordinator of the LSC is the main functionary regarding preparation of counselling routine, selection of Academic Counsellors and allocation of counselling sessions among the Academic Counsellors. The Coordinator plays a critical role in effectively organising counselling sessions in the LSCs for the learners. A learner's participation in the counselling sessions highly depends upon the proactive initiatives taken by the Coordinator. Normally, group counselling is organised in most of the cases but individual counselling is also organised at the LSCs in case of special need or upon the request of the learners. The Office of the Dean Study Centre has prepared a detailed Handbook for Management of Study Centre which has been circulated among study centres. MoU are signed with study centres with details of all relevant requirements. The Handbook for Study Centres is a compiled book of rules and procedures developed concisely for the Study Centres.
